Judge the games yourself by rating each on a scale of 1 to 5.
A STICKY SITUATION
I was playing Super Mario Bros. 3 and had finally made it to King Koopa. I was thirsty, so before I took him on I paused the game and got a Pepsi. I took a long drink then set it down. A friend walked in just then to see how far I was. My parakeet had climbed out of its cage to observe. Then my friend jumped onto the bed, startling the bird, which took off and crashed into my Pepsi, knocking it against the Reset button. It reset my game, but worse yet, spilled Pepsi all over me.

FLUSHED WITH PRIDE
Have I got a story for you! I bought two Gama Boys for my sons for Christmas. A few weeks ago I heard a scream from upstairs. David, 11, had flushed the toilet while he was holding four Game Paks, and three of them fell in. Two were flushed and one was left floating. We retrieved it and dried it off and it still played. The other two stopped up the toilet. The maintenance man at our apartments thought I could dissolve them with lye, so he poured it in and let it soak for 24 hours. It was still stopped up the next day, so he decided to take the plumbing apart to remove the obstruction. When we got the games out they looked fine. The lye hadn’t even hurt the labels on them. We rinsed them with clear water. I hated to do that, but after all, they’d been submerged for four days! We let them dry then tried them. They both play perfectly. I am impressed!

The only problem I have with Game Boy is borrowing one a few times. If you come out with any more puzzle games I’ll have to buy one for myself. My thanks for a quality product and hours and hours of quality entertainment!

IT’S LIGHTS OUT
When I finally beat Bowser in Super Mario Bros. 3, my brother and I wanted to take a picture, so we turned off all the lights. Unfortunately, the lights were all connected to the wall socket and it turned off my darned game!!!

ONE HOT GAME
One day my brother was playing Double Dragon II when my mom smelled a fire. Everyone had to evacuate. We left so fast that he forgot to pause his game. Smoke was coming from the laundry room, but it was just a lint fire.

I am writing about my son, Joseph, who is 11. He is a Nintendo Freak who has been legally blind since birth. He started playing when he was 3 and has become a master. Playing Nintendo has changed his life.

To start with, he couldn't see moving objects except when they were up close and moving slowly. Then his grandpa bought him an NES. After about a year we had his vision tested for school. We were stunned to learn that his vision had improved greatly. The doctors were all as shocked as we were. After talking with Joe, they concluded that he had perfected his vision by playing Nintendo. Since the screen continuously moves, it strengthened the muscles in his eyes. The doctors have encouraged him to play an hour a day, and more if possible. He was so happy he asked the doctor about getting a prescription for a couple new games. The difference now in his sight is unbelievable. The dean of the school of ophthalmology examined our son and just shook his head. He said that it has given him something to recommend for other kids with his problem.

His dream is to go to the University of Washington and work for Nintendo developing new games. He even jokes that he would like to have Howard Phillips' job. Don't be surprised if someday an eager kid with glasses walks into your offices. That would be my son, Joe.

David Fier and I have been playing Nintendo games for about a year and a half now. He actually started about a month before I did, giving him about 30 days more experience. We are both Nintendo freaks, with one difference. David's mom lets him play only an hour a day, while my mom doesn't restrict me. When visitors come to my home I can always be found with my hands wrapped around my NES Advantage, trying to defeat the bad guys. David prefers the regular controller because he claims that they are easier for him to handle.

Whenever I'm in a jam, I call David for advice. He has shown me how and where to warp, zap, jump, fly and get 1-Ups. In World 8 of Super Mario Bros. 3 he had 21 lives left when he beat Bowser. He helped me destroy the Mother Brain in Metroid and talked me through many labyrinths in many games. To date, he has finished Super Mario Bros. 1, 2 and 3, Metroid, The Legend of Zelda, The Adventure of Link, Simon's Quest, Dragon Warrior, Willow, Mega Man II, Duck Tales, Rygar, Wizards and Warriors, Kid Icarus, and several other easier games. He's working on too many games to mention.

He never reads instruction manuals. He simply plays and learns. I doubt that I will ever have his extraordinary dexterity or his ability to solve the puzzles posed by the games. David's mom—my daughter—who lets him play an hour a day is 30. My mom is 86. David is 5. He's a special guy who deserves mention.

In an upcoming issue, we'd like to feature letters from Nintendo desperados. If you've ever gone to extremes to get your hands on that one special game, we want to hear from you. Have you made cross-country treks, camped outside toy stores, considered trading your first, second, and third born? Write to us about your desperate adventures!

ARE YOU DESPERATE?

VIDEO SPOTLIGHT
Exploring the universe can mean a hard day's work, but the rewards are great for a dedicated Solar Jetman. Thirteen unique worlds await exploration. On each planet you'll fight angry aliens, the force of gravity, limited fuel supplies and a maze of caverns. So why bother? To obtain the fabulous Golden Warpship! Help along the way comes from bonus stages and shops stocked with hi-tech accessories for your jetpod. Rookies first need to get the hang of the controls—then, look out space scum!

Federation Policy

1. Defeat Obnoxious Aliens Before Getting the Goods

Aliens shoot first and don't ask questions. On the way to treasure sites, defeat all enemies, even if it means a return trip to the Mothership for refueling. When the path is clear, get the booty.

2. If Your Pod Is Trashed, Get Back to the Mothership

Without a pod, a Solar Jetman's life expectancy is approximately 12 seconds. Not good. But if you make it back to the Mothership you'll restore the lost pod. Dive into a warp for a quick return trip.
FEDERATION POLICY
USE THE MAPPING DEVICE TO AVOID BECOMING ALIEN CHOW
The reason you get a Mapping Device is so that you won’t get lost in the vastness of space. Use it frequently when moving at high speeds to stay clear of damaging obstacles.

FEDERATION POLICY
DUMP YOUR POD BEFORE GOING INTO THE CYBERZONE STAGES
Collecting Crystals in the Cyberzones requires great maneuverability. Destroy your pod and enter the Cyberzone in the jet-suit after collecting the Golden Warpship Part.

FEDERATION POLICY
GET PASSWORDS BEFORE GOING TO THE ACCESSORY STORES
When you reach a new planet with a store, skip the store and get the password. Then, whenever you enter the password, you’ll have all your money and you can buy what you need from the shop.

ACCESSORIES MAKE THE POD
Accessory items in the shops can give you a big edge, but only one item can be used at a time. Buy a few of each to see which is the best on a given planet. Then start over and buy only the items you need. On the planet, equip the pod and watch the Weapon Meter. Defeating certain enemies can restore spent energy.

HOMING MISSILES
These missiles circle the pod until they come in contact with an enemy target and then explode.
$150

ANTI GRAVITY
Counteracts the pull of gravity. Helpful where gravity is 30 or higher.
$1000

SMART BOMBS
They are guided dead on target if dropped near an enemy ship.
$2500

TIME BOMB
Drop the bomb and wait about six seconds for the explosion.
$150

STAR BULLETS
Star Bullets fire one at a time, but one hit is all you’ll need.
$400

MULTI WARHEAD MISSILES
Like Homing Missiles but they aren’t destroyed after one hit.
$400

TITANIUM BULLET PACK
Hard-nosed bullets will destroy targets with fewer hits.
$800

MILITARY BULLET SYSTEM
Fire powerful streams of bullets for quick encounters.

SUPER SHIELD
Extra protection for your pod. Great in tight passageways.
$500

MOMENTUM KILLERS
Stop on a dime! This item is great in hard-to-maneuver tunnels.
$800

EFFICIENT ENGINES
Better fuel economy will increase your range of exploration.
$500

DOUBLE STRENGTH THRUSTERS
Super power for quick attacks and escapes. Good on high G worlds.
$1000

MAPPING DEVICE
Once you buy the Mapping Device you won’t lose it. The display shows the local area of the planet.
$1500

SUPER MAPPING DEVICE
The position of many warps and all treasure locations are displayed on your map.
$5000

NIPPON SPORTS JETPOD
A bit faster and tougher than the original jetpod, it’s a good buy if you’re rich. If not, save up for it.
$10,000

ITALIAN RACING JETPOD
A faster cannon and the ability to pass through warps makes this jetpod a must for later stages.

PLANET 2
MEXOMORPH
Gravity: 24, Diameter: 31

SURVIVING ON MEXOMORPH
Rating: Relatively Easy. Your first job is to get the Booster—one of the most important items in the game! Then head underground. Snag the Navigator—a Map Device in disguise—to save money. The toughest enemies are the Hopping Boom Tubes: Shoot down on them from above. Destroy Super and Anti Gravity Planets with Time Bombs.

A PIECE OF THE WARSHIP
Inside the cavern where a piece of the Golden Warship is hidden, you'll face an array of Limpet Guns. Defeat them all before hauling the Ship Part back to the warp zone. Move forward slowly and look for the best angle from which to shoot the Limpets.

PLANET 3
OMEBRU
Gravity: 16, Diameter: 23

SEEING THE SIGHTS OF OMEBRU
Rating: Moderate. Green chompers (ships with steel jaws that move in straight lines vertically or horizontally) will attack early in the stage, but they are easy to defeat. Deeper in the planet you'll face a larger robot ship. Titanium bullets will help in your attack. There's also a hidden warp zone in the center of the circle of ships. Inside you'll find three more warp zones. The 1st goes to Planet 5, the 2nd goes to Planet 6, and the 3rd goes to Planet 7.

SPACE SALVAGE ITEMS
1. Fancy Alien Item
2. Fuel
3. Crystal
4. Treasure Box

16. Gold Ship Part

GOLD SHIP PART
The warp entrance is guarded by swarms of Mini Fighters. Use the nearby Extra Ship to go in fresh. Once you're inside, keep right to avoid the Boom Tubes. Attack the large Robot Ship near the Ship Part from below and at a distance.

POD ACCESSORIES
- Homing Missile
- Bullet Pack
- Efficient Engine
- Titanium
- Mapping Device
THE CORSO CONNECTION
Rating: Moderate. The Time Bombs and Multi Warhead Missiles are useful in taking out the guns. The lower third of the cave reverses gravity. Best of all, you can tow warp zones!

GOLD SHIP PART
Time your boost past the Boom Tubes to avoid getting zapped then attack from the right. Other enemy guns can be destroyed by firing at them through rocks.

BOKKY OR BUST
Rating: Relatively Difficult. To the far left you'll encounter a large red Robot Ship that fires Multiple Warhead Missiles. Shoot into the open panels to destroy sections of the Robot Ship. To the far right you’ll see a moving warp zone. Inside is a Bonus Stage. The screen scrolls vertically while you collect Crystals.

GOLD SHIP PART
This time it’s a large green Robot Ship that is blocking the passage to the Ship Part. Position your pod to fire into the open panels to destroy it.

LIFE ON LEMONTE
Rating: Difficult. In the lowest cave are warp zones to planets 9 and 10.

GOLD SHIP PART
Mega-Gravity Planets make reaching the warp zone very difficult. Anti Gravity will help you resist their pull.
PLANET 7
CHORLTON
Gravity: 32, Diameter: 35

ALONG AND WINDING ROAD
Rating: Difficult. Swarms of Mini Fighters and Trumpet Towers are a major problem. Even worse, in the underwater lower-half of the planet, enemy ships block the tunnels.

GOLD SHIP PART
On your way to the warp area you should make use of the Extra Ships and Energy that are scattered in the narrow tunnels.

SPACE SALVAGE ITEMS

24. Gold Ship Part

PLANET 8
SHISHKEBAB
Gravity: -24, Diameter: 29

SLOUCHING INTO SHISHKEBAB
Rating: Moderate. Far to the right of where the Mothership lands is a moving warp to a Bonus area. In the Italian Jetpod, travel through the warp zones to save time. Warp #7 goes to #9 and #9 leads to Warp #19.

GOLD SHIP PART
Go left, down and follow the tunnel back to the right to the Ship Part.

SPACE SALVAGE ITEMS

1. Crystal
2. Radioactives
3. Crystal

- Time Bomb
- Star Bullet
- Multi-Mode Missiles
- Efficient Engine
- Titanium Bullet Pack
- Double Strength Thruster
- Nippon Sports Jetpod
- Italian Racing Jetpod

PLANET 9
ZLAZ TORDUS
Gravity: 24, Diameter: 37

DOWN & OUT IN ZLAZ TORDUS
Rating: Moderate. In the upper levels are numerous Limpit Guns and Star Dragons. There's also a Bonus Warp on the outer surface, but it moves off the screen quickly. Use warps and the Italian Jetpod to skip between caverns.

GOLD SHIP PART
You'll face attack by ships. Shoot them in the open panels. The Ship Part is far to the right and down a narrow passage.
QUICK PLANETARY SURVEY

The final four planets present even greater challenges, but as a veteran Solar Jetman you should be able to cruise through them.

PLANET 10 SHAMMY GEN
Gravity: 24, Diameter: 33

PLANET 11 SHANKOO
Gravity: 56, Diameter: 39

PLANET 12 MIPLEZUR
Gravity: 72, Diameter: 45

PLANET 13 UROWND
Gravity: 32, Diameter: 31

Some of these final worlds have high gravity. Use Anti Gravity and Double Strength Boosters.

You’ve Put A Lot Of Light Years On The Old Jetpod, Now It’s Time To Cruise The Stars. With Style In The Golden Warpship
Howard, Nester, and Razor approach the Maniac Mansion with caution.

Come on. It takes more than a spooky house and a couple of extraterrestrials to scare me.

Oh please spare me the j-steroid speech.

How could I be scared with a hunk like you around?

Weird-O-Matic!

Pumping iron is for weenies.

How could I be scared with a hunk like you around?

Be careful not to touch anything. It might not be what it seems.

Right, like your bow tie probably shoots anti-zombie missiles.

Be careful not to touch anything.

I think we should split up and search every room we might find something useful.

It's okay by me and Miss Punkette, here. Just holler if it gets too much for you, Razor.

Come on. It takes more than a spooky house and a couple of extraterrestrials to scare me.

Be careful not to touch anything.

How could I be scared with a hunk like you around?
WHY DOESN'T ANYBODY LIKE ME?

A HUNK IN HIDING?

THIS WON'T HURT A BIT, SWEETIE.

N-AH, I WAS, I WAS JUST GOING TO RIP THIS BUSH OUT SO WE COULD CRAWL INTO THE BASEMENT THROUGH THE GRATING.

PRETTY GOOD THINKING, WESPER. I THOUGHT MAYBE YOU WERE AVOIDING ME.

HIDING FROM YOU? HA! THAT'S A LAUGH DO YOU THINK I'M A TUNA HEAD OR WHAT?

MAYBE A SHRIMP.

I DON'T KNOW WHAT THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT BUT SOMETHING PRETTY FISHY IS GOING ON IN MANIAC MANSION.
Nemo's Mushroom Forest is as wild as Mario's Mushroom Kingdom. Fortunately, Nemo can tame some of the savage animals with his candy.

Spiny Snails
Slow moving and surly, these snails have no taste for sweets. It requires good timing to jump over them.

- A mighty leap, up and over!
- Even if the Snails don't want any candy, toss a few on their noggins!
- As the Frog, Nemo can bounce the Snails away with his belly!

Flying Ants
The helmets these buzzing bad guys wear won't help them if you belly bounce them as a Frog.

- Flying Ants aren't very smart or fast. If you see them coming, you can often just stand and stare at them, and they'll fly back the way they came.
- Don't backtrack, or enemies will reappear

Little did Nemo know when he accepted an invitation from the Princess of Slumbeland to visit her world ("Just to play," she said) that he would find himself on the edge of danger. "Play" in this strange land seems to involve taming wild animals with a bag of candy, among other things! Where is that Princess, anyway?
The Mighty Mole
Transform into a Mole and you can dig into the earth with your powerful claws. Being a peaceful animal, the Mole has no ability to attack.

The Fearless Frog!
As a Frog, you can easily leap from platform to platform over the falls. But be patient and watch out for Flying Ants!

In most cases you will need to be a specific animal to get a Key.

A Final Key
The sixth Key at the top of the falls can be retrieved by either the Lizard or the Frog.

Secret Hall
By using the different animals' powers creatively, you can find secret passages and alternate ways of collecting all the Keys you need to unlock the door at the end of this area. Experiment and explore everywhere!

Dig towards the left when you first go underground, then head down to find the Secret Hall.

When you leave, you'll reappear on top of the big mushroom. Riding the Lizard, you can get a 1-Up at the top of the falls.
If you move forward too quickly, several enemies will attack at once. Nemo needs an animal friend—fast!

Hillside Hijinks

To survive your trip up the hill, you'll have to jump a lot and move slowly so you encounter one enemy at a time.

This Guy Looks Tough, But...

A big, orange gorilla doesn't look like he'd be interested in candy, but he'll gladly give you a ride for a few choice sweets.

When you're riding the Gorilla, he'll clobber your enemies for you!

Remember Oompi's Tip!

The Gorilla can take you to the top of the tree to find the Lizard, but it's a tough climb! Jump up and down on the branches until the Deadlylion Seed floats straight at you, then dodge.

Once you get the Key, hop onto the Lizard. You can then fit into small passages.
A Burrowing Bumble Bee
Feed the Bee some candy, then touch him for a magic transformation! As a Bee, you can fly short distances.

Unlock This Key's Mystery
Mastery of the Bee's flying skill is essential to succeed in the garden. To capture the Key floating by the spikes, tap the A Button just right.

Beast Hate To Bathe
You can't get any farther than the third big pond as the Bee. As Nemo, take a swim to find a secret passage deep underwater that will take you to the end.

There's More Than Scum At The Bottom Of A Pond
Check the bottom of each pond for a secret passage. Dive to the bottom of the second pond to locate a Key and a 1-Up!

Love That Purple Lizard!
The final key you need is in a tree, so climb up riding the Lizard! Wait for him to come out from the little overhang he's under, then quickly feed him candy and mount up!

Once you've got all six Keys, jump from the tree branch, over the last Snake, and head for the door!
HOUSE OF TOYS

A HAIR-RAISING TRAIN RIDE!

This area can be frustrating at first, but once you learn the pattern, it's easy. There are several safe spots on top of the train. If you stick to these, you can avoid danger.

Basic Training

At the start of your train ride, stand near the front of the second car and don't make any drastic moves. Be ready to jump, duck or dodge when the toy planes and balloons attack.

Stick close to this general area at the beginning of your train ride.

NIGHT SEA

DARK UNDERWATER ADVENTURE

Nemo will meet a couple of potential friends in this watery dream. The Hermit Crab can dig under the sand and fight enemies with his claws. To easily avoid the Tadpole Toughs, hitch a ride on the Big Fish.

Nemo Goes Fishing

The Big Fish will give you a ride, but first you must feed it. Not an easy task, considering that the mean Tadpoles will chase you around.

It can be helpful to stun the Tadpoles with candy as you try to feed the Big Fish.

A Dangerous Jump!

In a subterranean cave, your friend the Frog waits to help you make a dangerous jump. To achieve it without being skewered, start your jump in the middle of the area below the opening.

If you jump from directly beneath the opening, you'll get stuck on the spikes.
Safety Zones!
To avoid the mashers, camp out near the rear of the second car in the train and enjoy the ride.

Then move to the end of the second car for three times down.

When the ceiling starts falling, duck at the end of the train and wait for the spikes to come down four times.

Flying Squirrel's Ambush
Leap over the first Flying Squirrel and then duck to avoid the spikes. Ditto on the second squirrel.

Repeated jumping sometimes brings out the Squirrels early.

It will take a lot of practice to make it through this level. Memorizing the obstacles is essential.

There are more than enough Keys to be found in the House of Toys, so don't worry about missing a few.

A Hidden Cave: Davey Jones' Locker?
The dead-end cave actually leads to a hidden undersea grotto. Between all the spikes on the walls and the Spiny Fish, it's a very dangerous place. But you can get a 1-Up and a Key there, so it's worth exploring.

A Flying Fish Finish!
Be ready to leap or duck to avoid the Flying Fish and head for the door! You need only five Keys to finish this dream.

You can Belly Bounce the Flying Fish if you have transformed into the Frog.

Is This Crab On A Diet?
Sometimes animals are reluctant to eat, or are in a difficult position to feed. Don't get too close to this Hermit Crab. Hug the sea bottom and feed him.

Watch out for the spitting Barnacles!
Nemo's House

It's No House Party!

Full of rambunctious enemies, Nemo's House is a difficult stage to conquer. You must make wise use of all the animals' abilities, and only a few Healing Items are available.

Some Animals Are Tougher Than Others!

Each of the animals has a different number of Life Boxes. Try to use animals with more Life Boxes, like the Mouse, as often as possible.

Collect the best Healing items when you have a lot of Life Boxes.

Pass up the Life restoring Items until you really need them.

First Stop: The Basement

Work your way down to the basement of the house where you'll find a Healing Box, 1-Up and Key. Get the Lizard to collect the items, then turn into a Bee and fly out.

Retain the Bee's powers to get to the attic of the house (the upper left area).

Trek To The Attic

The most crucial part of this area is flying up to the Mouse in the attic with as much life as possible. Avoid the little bats and the dish-tossing Monkeys!

Killer The Monkeys!

On your way to the basement, turn into the Frog to belly bounce the Monkeys.

Wait until they're under you and drop on them.
There's A Mouse In The House!

Once you have tamed the Mouse and hitched a ride, you can use his hammer to defeat enemies. Collect as many Healing Items as you can for the fight ahead.

If There's No Door, Make One

The Mouse's hammer can also break the gray-colored walls. You'll have to jump and swing the hammer simultaneously to completely clear away the barriers.

Monkey Sting, Monkey Do!

Monkey guards the last Key. Don't get too close to him. Wait until he stops throwing dishes. Let him have it with the Bee's stinger, then get the Key.

The Bee's Flight Is Limited

The Bee can fly short distances, but he must plan ahead. To get to the attic from Nemo's room, start from the bed post and fly up quickly.

Escape From The Clouds

Change back into Nemo to leave the Cloud Ruins.

Automatic Scroll Action

On your way up to the Cloud Ruins, the screen scroll will be automatic. Stop to rest on as many clouds as you can.

The Lizard Is Your Ally

To make it through the narrow gap at the lower right of the Cloud Ruins, you'll have to ride the Lizard.

Cloud Ruins

FLY, BE FREE, BE A BEE!

This dream starts high on the rooftops and goes up to the clouds! The Bee's powers of flight are essential for this dream's aerial action.

To The Exit

All the Keys you need are right by the exit door!
Topsy-Turvy
Which Way Is Up?!

Namo will have to use all his animal handling skills to tame this nightmare world. It's very long and the proper sequence of animal powers must be used to make it through!

Constant Change!

Go right from the start to get the first Key as Nemo. Find the Frog, collect the nearby Key, then go for the Bee. As the Bee, you can collect a couple more Keys, then fly up to ride the Mouse.

More Simian Hijinks

A monkey guards one of the Keys, and you'll have to defeat him as a Bee. Stay far enough away that he doesn't throw dishes, then sting him good.

Hammer Time!

Ride the Mouse up the wall, carefully avoiding the falling Seeds. It'll be difficult to break the wall with the Seeds attacking, but if you're patient, you can do it. Break a few blocks, run away, then go back and break some more.

Scroll Strategy

Approach an enemy slowly, and when it appears on the edge of the screen, backtrack slightly. When you go forward again, the enemy will sometimes be gone.

Whew!

If you have the wrong animal helping you, look around and you'll probably find the one you need.

Once you've broken down the wall, head straight for the healing bow!
NIGHTMARE LAND
MORE THAN JUST A BAD DREAM

Nemo finally meets the Princess at the end of his Topsy-Turvy dream. It turns out that good king Morpheus has been captured by the Nightmare King, and Nemo must venture into Nightmare Land to rescue him!

Nightmare Land is Nemo's toughest challenge yet with four sections to defeat, each guarded by one of the Nightmare King's toughest bad guys. Nemo won't need Keys to get through the four parts, but the job will not be an easy one!

Nemo can't defeat the evil creatures of Nightmare Land with a bag of candy alone. So, the Princess gives him a magical Morning Star, which he can use to cast bolts of force (Select and hold down the A Button).

You'll lose plenty of sleep trying to beat this character...

SLUMBERLAND ANIMAL HANDLING TACTICS

Use care when handling the animals of Slumberland. Although you can feed them candy, tame them, and then gain their use. Until you do, they will remain wild and dangerous.

Make sure the animal has eaten three pieces of candy and is asleep before you try riding it.

Some animals refuse to eat candy. These cannot be tamed (Your candy will stun them, however).

Remember, the animals are wild, and will often charge at you before they've gobbled three pieces.

Your toughest challenge lies ahead in Nightmare Land! Use all your animal friends' powers wisely and you'll defeat the Nightmare King!
WHERE ARE THE WARP WHISTLES AND HOW DO I USE THEM?

While the Nintendo Power Super Mario Bros. 3 Strategy Guide does include information on the Warp Whistles, our Game Play Counselors have still been bombarded with questions about these valuable items. Here then, is the last word on the Warp Whistles in Super Mario Bros. 3.

The first Whistle is in World 1-3. Make your way to the first white background block and defeat the Koopa. Then, while standing on the block, crouch down for 5 clicks of the timer. You'll fall through the block and land behind the scenery. Run quickly to the end of the stage. You'll make it to Toad's House, and he'll give you the Whistle.

You'll find the second Whistle in the World 1 Fortress. You'll have to have a Raccoon Tail to get this one. As soon as you reach the first door in the Fortress, double back and fly through the opening in the ceiling. You'll find a ledge above the screen, to the right. Run to the right as far as you can and press Up when you reach the end. You'll fall into a chamber with a chest that holds the Whistle.

Use a Hammer on the upper-right Rock in World 2. You'll find the path to the Whistle!

Use the Whistles like you use any item on the Map Screen. Press the B Button to open up the inventory box, select a Whistle and Press the A Button to activate it. A Whirlwind will take you to the Warp Zone. If you use a Whistle in World 1, you'll be able to Warp to Worlds 2, 3 or 4. Use a Whistle in Worlds 2, 3, 4, 5 or 6 and you'll be able to Warp to Worlds 5, 6 or 7. Use a Whistle in Worlds 7 or 8, or in the Warp Zone itself, and you'll end up in World 8!

The third and last Whistle is on the Map Screen of World 2. Get the Hammer from a Hammer Bros. and use it on the upper-right Rock. You'll open up a path which will eventually lead to the Whistle.

Whistle into the Warp Zone and choose your World. If you Whistle while in the Warp Zone, you'll go to World 8.
WHERE IS THE TOWN OF AMAZONES?

The town of Amazones is southeast of Brynmaer. To get there, you'll need the Sword and Ball of Water. From Brynmaer, journey to the east until you reach the river. Then find a shallow place in the river and make a bridge by freezing the water with the Sword and Ball. Cross the river and move southward. You'll find that all of the inhabitants of Amazones are women. If you talk to them and they see that you're not a woman, they'll kick you out of town. There's a guard outside the house on the east edge of town. Use Paralysis on the guard so that she can't make you leave town. Then enter the house and go downstairs to find the elusive Blizzard Bracelet.

CRYSTALIS

WHAT DO I USE TO DEFEAT THE STATUES OF MOON AND SUN?

You'll find these powerful statues in a cave behind the Pyramid, east of Sahara. The only way to defeat them is to use their namesake Bows. The Bow of Moon is in the town of Amazones. Use the Change Spell to disguise yourself as a woman before you come into the town. When you speak to the chief of Amazones, offer her the Kirisa Plant. She'll return the favor by giving you the Bow of Moon. The Bow of Sun is in the mountains near Shyron. After you cross two bridges on your way up, turn right at the next intersection. Keep moving to the right, break through a wall, then use the Flight Spell to cross over to a Chest. Inside, you'll find the Bow of Sun.

CRYSTALIS

WHERE IS THE PSYCHO SHIELD?

The Psycho Shield is the most powerful shield ever. With it, you'll be able to guard against Poison, Paralysis and Petrifying spells. You'll find it in the fiery world at the top of Mt. Hydra. After you use the Key of Styx, move north past the statues and turn right. Then use the Flight Spell to cross the water and continue until you find the Chest.

Use the Psycho Shield to protect yourself from the most powerful enemies.
TOMBS & TREASURE

Once you've completed the first level of the game, you'll be able to explore the world that you've uncovered with the help of your new abilities. With your new strength and the tools at your disposal, you'll be able to defeat the enemies that stand in your way. The success of your journey hinges on your ability to perform certain tasks and those higher levels will give you the strength to defeat advanced enemies. You'll start your journey with Level 1 experience after you have collected everything that you can from the Laboratory and then left. In the High Priest's Tomb, you'll encounter Skorper. Defeat this low level enemy with your Sword. After Skorper has died, you'll advance to Level 2 experience. Other key moves will trigger more level increases. Make sure that you examine everything that you come across carefully. The descriptions of items will often give you a clue as to how and where you should use them. Here's a list of important things that you should do in the beginning stages of the game.

1) After you have changed to Jose and pushed the right wall in the High Priest's Tomb, take the Mosaic Tile and the One-Eyed Mask.

2) Put the Mosaic Tile in the door of the El Castillo Pyramid. Once inside, take everything that you can, smash the Tall Flask to get the Ring of Itza and move the pile of Gold to reveal the Red Jewel. Once you join the Red Jewel and the One-Eyed Mask, you'll be able to use the Mask to read the Tablets in the Stone Box. These Tablets explain activities that you will have to perform later in the game.

3) Wash the Golden Mirror in the Well of Paradise. Then take the Golden Pipes and join the Pipes with the Bandage.

4) Defeat the Snake Master in El Caracol by joining the Red Jewel with the Sword and using the Sword to fight. Then put the Silver Globe in the stand and let the girl play the Golden Pipes.

5) At the Court of 1000 Columns, defeat El Slug by joining the Red Jewel and Sword and using the Sword. Then look at the column and smash the ground near it. This will reveal the Golden Globe.

6) Return to El Caracol. Take the Silver Globe and put the Golden Globe in its place. Then change to the girl and let her play the Pipes.

7) Go back to the Court of 1000 Columns and smash the ground again. This time you will reveal the Silver Head.

8) At the Temple of Warriors, defeat Cadaver in the same way that you beat El Slug and take the Sun Necklace. You can try to take the Blue Jewel. But at this point, you will probably not be able to freeze the Jaguar who is the guardian of the Blue Jewel.

This should get you started on the right track. Remember to be thorough. If you can't take an item, try to manipulate it in some other way and try to join the items that are in your inventory with each other. The Sword can be joined with various Jewels for extra strength. The following table explains just what sort of strength you'll need to defeat the creatures that you will encounter in your journey and recommends an experience level that you should attain before fighting.

WHAT DOES THE SUN NECKLACE DO?

The Sun Necklace acts as a clock of sorts. Wash it in the Well of Paradise and you'll be able to tell the time of day. Washing the Sun Necklace also raises your Experience 2 levels. Once you know the time of day, you'll be able to carry out the activities described on the Stone Tablets. You can advance to the right time of day by using the “Wait” command.

WHAT IS HIDDEN IN EL CARACOL?

Here are two special items that you can find hidden in the walls of the second floor at El Caracol by using the reflective powers of the Golden Globe. To get to the second floor, change to Jose and push the Pedestal. The wall will open to reveal the stairs. Once you are upstairs, place the Golden Globe in the Pedestal there and wait for sunlight. When the Sun is shining, change to the girl and play the Golden Pipes. A beam of light will come into the room and bounce off the Globe, illuminating a section of the wall. Look at the wall and then smash it. You'll find the Crystal Key.

Medical alert! Microscopic monsters have come out in force to take over the lab of the famous plumber turned practitioner, Dr. Mario. You've got to set things straight by manipulating Dr. Mario's special vitamin capsules and making matches to ablate the menace. It's Tetris-style strategic fun for one or two players!

Line Up The Colors
Mario tosses capsules into the bottle in an attempt to stomp out the viruses that have taken over. It's up to you to control the capsules so that their colors line up with the colors of the germs. A vertical column or horizontal row of four same-colored capsules and/or germs will disappear; problem solved. When the bottle is clear of germs, you'll move on to the next emergency. If the capsules pile up to the top of the bottle, though, the patient's a goner.

Capsule Control
Capsules move just like Tetris blocks. Slide them left, right and down using the Control Pad and rotate them with the A and B Buttons.

Match the colors four-in-a-row and knock out the germs.
Choose Your Specialty

There are two variables to make the operation a challenge for both interns and experts. The virus level determines the number of bugs that must be eliminated and the speed setting varies the drop speed of the capsules. Start low and slow, then work your way up.

Dr. Mario's Diagnosis

No one knows as much about the methods of manipulating capsules as Dr. Mario. Here are a few of his winning strategies that you should keep in mind when starting your own practice.

Look At The Big Picture

When four capsule colors and viruses line up in a row, they disappear and make room for other colors to fill the space. Make sure that you examine how placement of each capsule affects the colors around it, so that when you make matches you drop the right colors into the most advantageous spaces. Some placements can result in multiple matches.

Plan Ahead

Dr. Mario always keeps one step ahead of the game by holding up the next capsule he'll toss. Consult with him while you're playing and you'll be able to better plan where to place each capsule.

Finish It Off

When you're down to just one germ, don't worry about how your moves affect the rest of the bottle. Just concentrate on making a match to eliminate the bug.

Three At A Time

With some practice and patience you can set up the capsules so that three lines disappear in a single move.

A triple play will come in handy in a two-player game.

What's up, Doc?

De-bug the bottle
Mend Your Mistakes
Complications can develop if germs are buried under mismatched colors. Think about the effect of each placement before the capsule settles and you may be able to avoid some difficult situations. When colors fall and bury germs under them, make matches to uncover those germs and work toward a cure.

Work From The Top Down
Since capsules drop from the top, it's a good idea to clear away the highest viruses first. That way, you'll open up maneuvering space and give yourself room to work into the lower areas. If the viruses are very high, you may consider making horizontal matches.

Fill The Space
Since the capsule control in this game is very much like the control in Tetris, there are some techniques that work well for both games. One such maneuver is sliding pieces to the left or right into open spaces. That way, you can fill spaces sideways that are surrounded on three sides. This is important to remember when the stacks have grown so high that you can no longer place capsules on top.

Think Before You Stack
If you can't find a perfect match for a falling capsule, place it to the side so that you'll have space in the middle to manipulate other falling capsules. Wherever you stack, always look for both horizontal and vertical matching opportunities.
Two Can Play This Game

Doctors Duel Over Dexterity

The best way to play is with two players in an all-out, split-screen, simultaneous battle! Race against another budding doctor to get your name in the medical journals. With the right moves, you can upset your opponent's research and move on to critical acclaim.

Double Trouble

Line up your capsules so that you'll make two matches with one move and your opponent will receive two capsule-halves.

Try For A Triple

If you can arrange three matches with one move, three colors will drop down into the other player's bottle. That could mess up anyone's plans!

Make the Match Even

If one player is more experienced than the other, you can make the match fair by individually choosing Virus Level and Speed.

Check Out Dr. Mario's Med School

For strategies on how to make your practice a success, check out Dr. Mario's Med School on the following pages.
Study And Practice Are The Keys To Success

When you face-off with another potential Dr. Mario champ, you'll have to play with precision and speed. Not only will you be obliterating viruses in your own bottle, you'll also be trying to slacken your opponent's pace by sending over colors. The way to do this is by making doubles and triples. Doubles send over two colors, triples send three and practice makes perfect. Dr. Mario recommends that you practice the methods of making winning moves on your own. Then you'll be ready for a two-player game with a competitive edge.

Prepare A Practice Field

In this practice session, the object is to learn how to set up and carry out double and triple scores. To clear the bottle for practicing, start with a low virus level. Play to a point where only a few capsules remain stacked to either the left or right edge and near the bottom of the bottle. While practicing, use the capsules shown in the examples and set the others out of the way.

BE CAREFUL NOT TO ELIMINATE ALL OF YOUR VIRUSES WHILE PRACTICING.
Doubles

The key to making multiple matches is to set up sets of three same-color capsules and to wait for an opportunity to complete those sets with a single move. Here are two examples of two-set matches.

Example #1

This is a basic vertical double. Stack two three of a kind matches end to end and wait for a capsule with both colors.

Start the stack with a double red
Stack three reds high
Then start stacking blues
Finish the setup and wait

Blue matches first. Then the red drops and you've scored a double!

Example #2

Remember that you can make matches both vertically and horizontally. Here's an example of a double horizontal match.

Start with a red and yellow capsule
You'll need a double-yellow to set up the bottom match
Connect the reds
Complete the setup

When the next red and yellow capsule falls, you make both matches simultaneously.

VOLUME 18 35
Triples

Triple-match scores are similar to doubles, but they do take more precision and time to set up. The results are worthwhile, though, since your opponent will be pelted with a three-color shower. When you are following these examples, remember to set capsules that don’t fit into the scenario to the side.

Example #1

Just like the first double example, this multiple match is vertical. The twist is that now there are three colors in the equation.

Start with a base of yellow and red capsules.

Another yellow and red capsule would make for a perfect double, but wait it out for a triple.

Build blue onto the yellow and set up a red match.

A blue and yellow capsule sets off a chain reaction in this scenario, the area will clear completely once the matches are made.

Example #2

In most triple scores, you’ll incorporate both horizontal and vertical matches. This will enable you to bring a wider array of capsules into your scheme.

A horizontal yellow match is the first part of the setup.

Begin to stack red capsules but leave a space for the blue match.
Now it's time to check up on your own abilities to recognize multiple score setups and to see if you qualify to be a full-fledged doctor. Examine the following situations. Then take a look at the next capsules to come into play and decide where they should go in order to score a double or triple. Think about setting up near completions of the same color and then making it so that the last capsule makes the matches. The answers are on the next page.

TRY FOR TRIPLES WITH THESE SET-UPS

```
2A
2B
2C
```

CONGRATULATIONS! YOU'VE DONE AN EXCELLENT JOB

```
Blue will be the next color to build up.
All of the matches have been set up. Now wait for the trigger.
Blue matches first. Then red falls and yellow makes three!
```
If you haven't figured out the answers to Dr. Mario's Board Exam, study them here and try to work out a few more examples on your own. Understanding doubles and triples will give you an advantage in competitive situations.

Even when you understand the principles of multiple matches on paper, the only way to really master the techniques is by making up a practice field in a one-player game and trying out double and triple scores. When they become second nature, try out your skills in a two-player game.

If you find triples easy, try a quadruple! It probably won't ever happen in a playing situation, but you might try to find a way to score a coveted quadruple while practicing. Give it a try and keep fine-tuning your Dr. Mario skills.

Dr. Mario is pulling double duty! Germs are taking over his lab on the NES and spreading to Game Boy, too. Now, you can help him at home and on call!

The Basics

Tetris-playing skills are going to help out a lot here. You’ll manipulate Dr. Mario’s vitamin capsules just like the Tetris blocks. Mario tosses them and you must match them up with the germs. Stack four of the same shade and they disappear. Except for being black and white, the game is virtually identical to the NES version.

Link Up For Added Challenge

Two players contribute to the chaos with a race to find the cure. When you make two or three matches with one move, extra capsules will drop into your opponent’s bottle. Clear out your viruses before your opponent can or try to fill up his or her bottle with extra capsules. Two-player matches are best three out of five.

Watch The Virus Count

You can’t see your opponent’s screen, but you can tell how many viruses are left in the other bottle. Try to stay ahead of the game.

RoboCop Rocks Through A New 10 Stage Mission For Game Boy

A powerful compact video game system calls for an equally powerful high tech hero. That makes RoboCop the perfect choice for Game Boy! The streets of New Detroit are teeming with hoods and it's RoboCop's job, once again, to show some mechanized muscle. Help RoboCop uphold the prime directives and clean up the city for innocent bystanders. In the first of 10 incredible stages, RoboCop faces the slime and riff-raff on the streets of this futuristic city gone bad. Plow through the thugs with a steady stream of bullets and you should be able to survive with little more than a scratch. What follows are critical highlights to help you through some of the tough spots.

Weapons

- Grab a Jar of RoboCop's Nutritional Supplement, Baby Food, for extra energy.
- With a 20 Round 3-Way Hi-Power Bullets are useful against powerful enemies, but you only have 15 rounds.
- The Manta features mini-explosives with 10 rounds of incredible punch.

RoboCop's second patrol pits him against a greater number of more powerful villains. It will serve you well to proceed cautiously. Don't waste ammo and don't let the Punch It!

You'll earn points for shooting the barrel, but only punches destroy it.

Bikes

Two-wheeled tough guys tend to pop up into the air. Be ready for an assault from above and fire.
Stage 2
A thug shields himself from RoboCop's advances by holding close an innocent pedestrian. You'll have to work quickly and accurately. Aim for him when he steps away and keep plugging or time will run out.

Stage 6
Directive 4 clearly states that RoboCop cannot arrest senior officers of OCP. This rule leaves him unarmed against gang leader Dick Jones.

Stage 7&9
The complicated elevator system of OCP headquarters comes into play in Stage 7. Blast the enemies as you go.

Stage 10
If you thought Stage 2 was tough, just wait for this final showdown with Dick Jones. He's got the President and he'll fire if you don't act in time. Get Jones in your sights in a hurry and let him have it.

Club Thug
Direct contact with the villain is bad news. Take him out from a distance.

Football action is not only heating up on fields and in stadiums all over the country, but it’s also happening on Game Boy screens with a pocket-sized companion to NES Play Action Football. Options and plays abound in this versatile version of America’s favorite sport. If there’s a time-out on the field, pull out your Game Boy for non-stop action.

Four Ways To Play

There are four game options to choose from. In a one player game, you can play against any one team or take on all of the teams in the playoffs. Game Link with another player and you can work together on one team or head two different teams and face off.

Play At Your Own Level

Four different skill levels determine the strength and speed of the teams. Beginners should choose Level 1.

Choose Your Team

Lead the team of any one of eight big football towns. Each team has unique plays.

Kick-Off

With good reflexes, you can control the direction and strength of your kick. Send it down field and run for it.
Each team works from a set of eight offensive plays. Choose your strategies from the plays on hand.

Send It Down

Surprise your opponent with a long pass on first and ten.

- Face to the left, Pass to the open man Complete! Keep running!
- Run to the left, Hit the running back with a lateral Push through the crowd

Lead Option

Keep the other team guessing with a quick fake.

- Face to the left like before
- Hit the running back with a lateral
- Push through the crowd

Running, passing and option plays are what you have to work from to advance the ball.

Defense

The defensive plays are the same for each team. There are eight different formations of zones and blitzes. Try to guess what the other team is going to do and react.

- Use a zone formation when you see a passing situation
- Blitz if you think you’ve got a good chance for a sack

Dive

You’ll find occasion to dive in both offensive and defensive plays. Get short yardage easily when you have the ball or dive to tackle when it’s the other team’s ball.

Stiff Arm

It’s usually best to go around a pack, but a stiff arm works too. Press the A Button rapidly to show some force.

Playoffs

After a few off-season practice games, give the playoffs a shot. You’ll go against the weakest team first, then you’ll move on to the championships.

Keep track of your password and you’ll be able to have a second chance at the title.

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP BOXING

FROM AGENT #980

Mighty Blow!

Make every knockdown into a knockout with a strong left hook and some rapid punching action. Fight your opponent until his energy is so low that he'll hit the mat at any moment and keep coming back with a left hook. When he starts to fall, continue to hold Up on the Control Pad and press the B Button rapidly. Your opponent will float up to the top of the screen and appear again at the bottom, like a television picture with no vertical hold. As your opponent spins, his energy will dwindle. When he's totally wiped out, you'll score a clean knockout!

Make the last blow a left hook and keep swinging while your opponent is in the air. Then stop when he's out of energy.

TETRIS

FROM AGENT #345

Heart Levels

Just in case you didn't notice this one in your Tetris manual, here's how you can start your game at high speed. At the Title Screen, press and hold Down on the Control Pad. Then press Start, choose the game and level, and begin. A Heart symbol will be added to your level making the game extra fast.

SHANGHAI

FROM AGENT #067

Special Modes

Our Agents have found that four sets of initials entered into this traditional tile matching game will send the game into special modes. Press the Select Button to call up the Subscreen and select a new game. You'll be given a prompt to enter three letters. Choose the letters REV and the game will begin with all of the tiles facing down. Choose ZAP as the initials and the sound that occurs when a tile can't be moved will be replaced by an electronic zapping effect. The letters STF, when entered, will call up the game's credits. Enter MAN and all of the tiles in the Chinese character format will incorporate the character for the number 10,000. In the format more familiar to western cultures, the MAN mode chooses only numbered tiles. You'll find it easier to win in this mode since there are fewer kinds of tiles and more possible matches.

REV

Reverse the tiles for an extreme challenge.

ZAP

Add a zapping sound effect.

STF

Take a look at the credits.

MAN

Make fewer tiles for easier matches.

COMING SOON

Game Boy development is continuing at a steady clip. Word is that Electronic Arts, the company that's bringing Skate or Die 2 to the NES, is developing a skateboarding game for Game Boy tentatively titled Tour De Thrash. Sounds great! Capcom is planning to continue it's association with Disney by developing Game Boy games starring Mickey Mouse and Roger Rabbit. Also on the horizon is a series from Game-Tek called the InfoGenius Line featuring a dictionary, thesaurus, personal organizer and more, all packed into Game Boy Game Pak's! The long awaited Game Boy Role Playing adventure from Kemco/Seika is now titled The Dove and The Key. We hope to see it some time next year. Check future issues of Nintendo Power for more info on coming games.
Dracula's Curse

Curse Castle is no less a maze than the lands of Castlevania you just explored. You'll start in a different place depending on which route you took to the castle.

ROUTE 11
(BLK 6-01 thru 6-02)
If you took the long way to Curse Castle, you'll start here, in the deepest bowels of the ancient structure.

ROUTE 13
(BLK 7-0A)
After you make it past the Axe Night Guards, Harpies and Gremlins, you'll be faced with dangerous tilting platforms.

- DRACULA'S ARCHFIEND FOLLOWERS
  TRIPLE THREAT REPEAT
  Dracula must have gotten a bargain on Mummies and Cyclopes, because you'll encounter them again at the end of this Route. Another Leviathan is also there to stir up trouble.

- DRACULA'S ARCHFIEND FOLLOWERS
  FRANKENSTEIN
  Another Monster patterned after Frankenstein patrols the basement of Curse Castle. You've defeated him before, you can do it again.

Use your Special Weapon to hold off the Mummies on one side, and whip your way through the pack.

BOSS!

Drops of acid from the ceiling will open the path here. Get through quickly by climbing over the obstacles.

ROUTE 16

Now Young Trevor, you must face me, Dracula, the Prince of Darkness!!!

ROUTE 12
(BLK 7-01)
Beat the Skull Knight King, and you will enter Dracula’s Castle here. At one point, you will have to dodge falling blocks as they pile up, and climb the growing pile to the next part of the area!

• Dracula’s Archfiend Followers

Triple Threat
Three kinds of creatures must be defeated to get through this area: a pair of Mummies, a Cyclops and a giant, winged Leviathan whose like you haven’t encountered yet.
The copy-cat Doppleganger can take any shape you can. To damage it, you must strike when it is not in the same form. As it assumes your shape, press Select to change. Hit it once and quickly press Select again.
Go Forth, Destroy Dracula With The Knowledge Of A Master

A Trip Into Castlevania’s Past

Choose From Three Helpful Spirits
In Castlevania III, you play the role of Trevor Belmont, youthful hero and originator of the Belmont warlord line. Your task is to foil the schemes of the Middle Ages’ ultimate evil—Count Dracula. You will not be alone in your quest to conquer the Count. Along the way, you’ll encounter three companion “spirits,” each with special abilities, which you can enlist as your allies. Choose wisely the “spirit” you take along, for you can only have one accompany you at a time in your journey. In addition, once a helper has been dismissed, you cannot gain his services again. (For your first journey through Castlevania, we recommend finding Grant and keeping him with you until the end.) As you gain more experience, you can try using the other “spirits,” or even go alone.

Make Your Way To The Castle Of Count Dracula
A wretched and winding path must be followed to reach Dracula, who plots from his lair in Curse Castle to overrun Europe with his undead forces!

FOR APPRENTICES
TAKE ROUTES 1-2 or 3-4-7-8
This path is the shortest and lets you enter the Castle at the midway point.

FOR DEVOTEES
TAKE ROUTES 1-2 or 3-5-9
This will allow you to choose Alucard as your companion “spirit,” but is a longer path.

FOR MASTERS
TAKE ROUTES 1-2 or 3-5-6-10
The most difficult way to the Castle, it will also start you in the lowest level of the Castle.
Trevor begins his quest in the village of Warakiya. Fearing the invasion of Dracula’s undead troops, the villagers have fled, leaving Trevor alone to face the onslaught. Advance scouts of Dracula’s armies have already invaded the town, but Trevor can easily master these weak foes.

Forsaken Street

Warakiya’s town square is vacant, but valuable items can be found in the candles. Get them all for a Long Chain Whip, a Dagger and extra Hearts.

Bats In The Belfry

Dracula’s Bats have taken residence in the church tower and can be difficult to detect against the ornate stained-glass background. Be ready to whip them when they swoop to attack.

Bone Chukkers

These skeletal threats lob deadly bones as they leap about. Clear them out before you go for the items in the candles.

Medusa Head Menace!

You’ll meet Medusa Heads in more dangerous places, but here is where you can learn their attack mode. To avoid one, run away until it almost hits you then go towards it. The floating head should pass harmlessly under you.

Study the Medusa Head’s pattern.

Don’t jump on the trap doors.
advancing into the village. If you don't move as you whip, you'll never get anywhere!

The top step of a staircase may appear to be a platform, but you cannot stand on it unless a block is visible behind it. Learn to use the stairs early in your quest.

The Zombies which attack here are easy, but it takes good timing to whip the Bats. Try leaping over their leather wings.

Day Of The Living Dead

Jumping Gremlins
Deal with these hopping horrors as soon as they come in whip's reach. Stand and wait for them to come to you. With the Gremlins gone, you can safely destroy one of the blocks and get access to the Meat.

Pillar Peril
The Pillar of Bones spits three fireballs, then recharges. Defend yourself with your whip and edge closer to the Pillar as it recharges.

Swing your whip swiftly to defend against the Pillar Of Bones.

The Zombies form a Skull Knight! They steadily walk you, swinging their scythes. Jump onto the left platform, so the monster follows & doesn't catch up.

The following items are indicated on the maps of Castlevania:
The only way to advance is to hitch a ride on the giant pendulums. Wait until they get close, then jump for it. As they swing towards your destination, jump off!

There are three ways to get rid of enemies on a higher platform: jump up and swing your whip at them, go halfway up the stairs and whip them; or use a Special Weapon.

It often pays to be patient.

As you ascend the stairs in this section, swarms of Medusa Heads will assail you. Ignore the candles, and concentrate on moving up as fast as possible. Deal with the Medusas using your whip or special weapon. The 1-Up at the top of this section can be collected by Grant on the way down the tower.

The Pocket Watch can help you get past the Medusas. If it looks like one is about to hit you, freeze it. Remember, the Watch uses 5 Hearts, so you probably will run out on your way up the tower.

Grinding Gears

To ride the giant gears, you have to put your foot on one of the teeth. Wait until the last moment before you jump off.

Deadly Spikes

Many of the spikes you’ll encounter on your adventure are deadly. If you touch them, even with full Life, you’re history!
Lore Of The Great Vampire Hunters

SHOT MULTIPLIERS
The Double Trouble and Triple Threat can sometimes be found in blocks. Also, if you use a Special Weapon to defeat 10 enemies in a row, you'll earn the Double Shot item. Defeat another 10 with Special Weapons to get the Triple Threat item.

Go Back To The Place Where You Started Route-2, Map 1. Go Left Through The Door To Begin Route-3.

NASTY GRANT
To defeat the huge, ghostly-looking creature at the top of the tower, keep your distance and use a Special Weapon such as the Sacred Water or Dagger. Be ready to dodger when he's on the ceiling, because he'll throw an axe your way. He also attacks with a Dagger like yours, which can be leaped over.

MAP II

GRANT DaNASTY
Grant was once a fierce pirate captain—until Dracula killed his family and put a curse on him. Once Trevor breaks the spell, Grant can become a companion 'spirit' who will help Trevor (Press Select to summon Grant's powers).

The Dagger and Axe are available to Grant as special weapons.

CLIMB WALLS!
Grant learned to climb any obstacle while working the rigging of his pirate ship. His jumping abilities are also formidable.

To The Top Of The Tower
Again, the Medusa Heads attack when you are vulnerable—on stairs and perilous platforms! Go as fast as you can without making a mistake, and you can get through taking only a little damage. But hesitate, and you'll be lost!

Avoid fighting on the edge of a platform.

As soon as you jump onto the lower gear, jump for the upper.

ESCAPE FROM THE CLOCK TOWER!
Use Grant's speed and climbing powers to get out of the clock tower quickly. He can fit through small spaces and climb over walls that would otherwise block Trevor's progress.

Grant's powers are useful, but can be tough to handle. Practice!
Deadly owls reside in the Forest Of Darkness. Whether you've entered by way of the clock tower or from Warakiya, you'll have to face them. But it is worth the effort to gain the chance of getting a new “spirit” helper.

Foggy Plateau

As if the Pillars Of Bones weren't enough, a group of grinning Gremlins are also bouncing around in this spooky setting. Don't go all the way up the stairs until the Pillar has spit three fireballs. Then edge closer until you defeat him.

Whoooo's There? Giant Owls!

The hostile owls roosting in these trees have a tricky attack. First their eyes gleam through the branches. Then, in a flurry of feathers, they burst from hiding and swoop to the attack. The Boomerang is the best weapon to use against them.

Throw the Boomerang, then move on. You get extra points for destroying more than one owl with a single throw.

Monster Mashers

To make it past these traps, jump on top of them when they are low enough, then travel along the tops. Not only is this less hazardous to your health, but it makes it easier to collect the items in the candles.

The spikes are deadly!
Spook Spores

These slow moving ectoplasmic creatures thoroughly infest the area. They burst like bubbles when hit, and the pieces are deadly.

Tangled Webs Of Terror

This section of the forest is crawling with Giant Spiders. When you see one coming down its web-line, jump up a few times, and the small Spider it throws at you will miss. You can then advance. A well-timed Axe will also make short work of a Spider.

Look Out! Enemies Below

It's tricky to get the drop on this whip-wielding skeleton. Try to get him to move right, then jump down to the left side.

The Cyclops

The Cyclops lacks finesse in his attack and relies on brute strength. Try to get him to move to a pulp. Don't fight the creature one-on-one, but use hit and run tactics. Pass up the Meat for now because the block hiding it gives you access to a safe spot. Stay on the platform until it's safe to attack the Cyclops in the head.

Sypha Belnades

Long thought dead by the people, Sypha was actually captured by the Cyclops and turned into a statue. Sypha's main weapon is his staff, but since he is physically weak, he must strike swiftly to win.

Powerful Magic

Hidden in candles and lanterns along the way are the magic items Sypha must collect to cast spells. Three different items can be found:

- Mystic Fire destroys everything.
- Freezes enemies for a short time.
- Shoots energy in three directions.
ROUTE-4
(BLK4-0A thru 4-0E)

The ghost ship is a daunting obstacle, full of creaky rigging, rotting planks and a scurvy crew of undead sailors. However, if you make it to the ship, you're well on your way to Drac's Castle. Once conquered, the ship will take you across the lake.

Total Number of Small Hearts and Bonus Bags in This Route:

\[W = 55 \quad E = 8 \quad (9600 \text{ pts})\]

Grinning Ghosts and Rotting Wood

Ghosts pursue you patiently and persistently. Because they take two hits to destroy, they can be dangerous. It's best to run under them and lead them to a spot where they can't knock you into a hole if they hit you.

Grant Is In Familiar Territory

If you kept Grant as your "spirit," you can take shortcuts on the ship.

Headless Hunters

Due to the length of their swords, it's tough to take on Headless Hunters without a Long Whip.

Red Skeleton

Red Skeletons are truly undead, coming back again and again, impossible to destroy.

Hit and run with the Red Skeletons.

Too Bad You Can't Take The Stairs

The last two platforms in the series are tricky, you'll have to move fast to make it.

SNAKE MAN SENTINEL

Keep your distance from this Snake Man and he will fire arrows that you can break with your whip. From a distance, Trevor throw daggers at him. Sypha's magic has a powerful effect, and Grant can cling to the ceiling and attack with his daggers.

Grant's ceiling attack is the most powerful method against Medusa.

Fighting on a small platform you'll get hit.

MAP 1

MAP 3

MAP 4

MAP 6
The Long Arm Of The Law

Lay down the law on these Headless Hunters using the Long Chain Whip. Sypha and Grant’s attacks do not have the range to be effective against the long swords of the Hunters.

Crows In The Crow’s Nest

One hit by these raucous ravens might knock you from your precarious perch. Because it’s dangerous to try to defeat them on the first platform, run to the right and make a stand on the bigger, safer platform.

Shortcut To Danger

Again, Grant can go over this wall to a direct encounter.

Rickety Rigging

High in the ghost ship’s rigging you’ll be faced with a pair of tilting masts, like the one you saw at the bow of the ship. Jumping from mast to mast can be dangerous, so it’s best to use Grant here. As Trevor or Sypha, you’ll have to leap to safety at the last instant.

Lore Of The Great Vampire Hunters

The Mystic Whip symbol will appear when you break a candle or defeat an enemy and have four or more Hearts. A second symbol will appear when you have eight or more Hearts. Collect both to fully power-up Trevor’s whip or Alucard’s Fire-balls.

DOUBLE TROUBLE ON DECK!

The final challenge on the ghost ship pits you against two heavy hitters. First, a pair of mummies burst out of one of the coffins, attacking with deadly bandages. They are easy to destroy with the whip. Stay behind the left platform to dust the first, then quickly go after the second.
If you took the lower Path of Fate in Route 3, you'll end up here. This area is one of the sections on the long route to Dracula's Castle. Don't be discouraged—you can do it!

Mad Frogs

As you make your way across the swamp, jump and whip, and jump and whip again. But since the frogs come out of the swamp randomly, this strategy doesn't always work. The constant jumping will at least keep you from getting stuck in the quagmire.

Queer Quicksand

You can sink quite a ways down into the quicksand here before you get stuck. A quick jump will take you back to the top. Wait too long though, and you're history. You can also jump rapidly across the surface, but it's tough with the Frogs constantly attacking.

If You're Really Hungry...

You can get Meat twice in the swamp, but the first location is more trouble than it's worth. Second can easily be obtained by anyone.

Mud Men

In the lower levels of the swamp live the mysterious Mud Men, beings formed from living mud! Mud Men ooze up out of the swamp randomly and then sink from sight. The Dagger and Boomerang are good to use against them.

Use the platforms rather than braving the marsh.
Get The Boomerang

Two Ghosts and a Whip Skeleton will attack as you enter this area. Destroy the Whip Skeleton first, then run under the Ghosts until you have a safe shot at them. Once you have defeated them, get the Boomerang.

Massacre Mud Men For Mass Points

Wipe out four Mud Men with each throw of your Boomerang, and you'll get 2,400 points. The Mud Men will return so you can do it again.

You're About To Go Batty!

You're getting close to the master of this stage, but first you'll have to defeat a few of his friends. You can't afford to lose Life bars now. Take care of this fearsome foursome with your Boomerang.

Lore Of The Great Vampire Hunters

KNOW THE HISTORY OF CASTLEVANIA

It is very important for any Vampire hunter to know the legends of Castlevania. No matter what Age you are battling the forces of evil in, their powers and weaknesses remain the same. They are, after all, eternally undead! The great Vampire Hunting tradition of the Belmont family begins with you, young Trevor. Here is a look at your future generations...

Castlevania

Vampire hunting fans were delighted when the adventures of Simon Belmont first appeared in 1987.

Simon's Quest

Simon's epic battle against evil continued a year after his first outing in CastlevaniaII, which greatly expanded the Belmont legend.

The Adventure

Giant Eyeballs and vines to secret passages were added frightening features in the Game Boy chapter of Simon's adventures.

---

THE BEASTLY BAT CAVE!

This cave in the craggy cove is a giant bar full of bats, frisky, skittering and waiting for anything foolish enough to wander into its domain. But this is no ordinary nightmare. When hit by a flock of venomous smaller bats, they are just as deadly as the whole. You'll have to work hard to eliminate the enemies before they can surround and destroy you. Grant will make short work of the Bat using the Axe, but Trevor can beat it with this Boomerang.
ROUTE-6 (BLK 5-01 thru 5-06)

The voyage into the underworld continues with the Dire Mire far behind. Although the caves of Route 6 look more civilized and manmade, they are the home of many horrors, including Dracula’s lost son, Alucard.

Total Number of Small Hearts and Banus Bags in this Route:

Firemen
These slow moving beings of living flame leave behind a deadly trail of fire. Don’t step in these hot spots.

Make Your Choice
Throughout this stage, you have your choice of an upper or lower way to go. The upper way is faster, but the lower has better items.

Mummy Makers
An endless stream of Mummies will appear on this platform. If you stick to the center of the platform, you can fight them off using the Boomerang and your whip. By using the Boomerang, you’ll gain extra points for defeating multiple Mummies with a single throw. Go to it!

If you don’t have the Boomerang, you can get it from the blocked-in candle below.

It’s Worth The Wait
You’ll have to wait for the acid to melt some of these blocks, but when the way is clear, head to the lower path and collect the 1-Up!

Fuzz Busters
With a movement pattern reminiscent of the Sparks in SMB2, Fuzz Busters are easy to avoid, but hard to destroy. It takes almost 50 hits to bust one! Talk about a waste of time.

DRACULA ALREADY?

Although the decor that a Vampire lives here, that appears to be what attacks you when you reach this area. Of course, this is no ordinary Vampire, but it is Alucard, the lost son of Dracula. You'll have to prove yourself in combat against him before he'll become your ally: As a swarm of bats, Alucard can’t be damaged, but he can’t hurt you either. Wait for the swarm to come, then hit him in the head and destroy his fire-balls with your whip.

ALUCARD

Alucard has had enough of Dracula’s evil schemes and plans to work against him. He can be useful as a “spirit” helper, though his offense is weak.

EERIE TRANSFORMATION

In a cloud of brimstone, Alucard can turn into a giant bat and fly just anywhere. If he’s hit by an enemy, or if he runs out of Hearts he’ll return to humanoid form.

Mummified Menaces!

Be careful with the second Pillar of Bones. Kneel down across from it and whip the lower head and the fireballs it spits.

Jolting Automatic Scroll

The automatic scroll in this part of the tower lurches—it scrolls, then it stops, scrolls, stops, etc. Because of this, the Axe Knights patrolling this staircase appear suddenly. Make your way up quickly, using Grant if you have him with you.

Use Grant to squeeze through passages and bypass stairs.

Grab A Cool Item

Dodge the Fuzz Busters and grab the item in the candle. If you have Sypha with you, use him to collect it for a valuable Ice Crystal spell.

A Gruesome Gaggle Of Gargoyles!

This is one of those areas of the game where it's extremely difficult to avoid taking a hit or two. But if you go up the stairs without hesitation you'll minimize the damage you receive.

More Gargoyle Turmoil

One of the candles in the lower route will have a Boomerang for Trevor or a Lightning Spell for Sypha. Good luck collecting the 1-Up on the other side of the gap!
Lore Of The Great Vampire Hunters

CHARACTER TOUGHNESS

The further you venture into Castlevania, the more damage brutal monsters you will can inflict on you when they strike. The tougher characters, Trevor and Alucard, will take less damage than Sypha and Grant. But at four Life bars a hit, the creatures in Dracula’s Castle can knock even Trevor out with four blows!

This Hall Is Supported By Pillars Of Bones!!!

Climbing this section of Curse Castle is one place where Sypha’s powers come in handy. With the Lightning Spell, even an apprentice could blast his way past the Pillars of Bones. But with any other character, it’ll be a tough fight.

1st Pillar
Wait until it fires before going up the stairs. Then carefully attack.

3rd & 4th Pillars
When these two fire at the same time, make a break up the stairs.

5th Pillar
Wait until it fires, then get up quickly and attack.

6th & 7th Pillars
A safe spot between the line of fire of these two is one step up the stairs.

7th & 8th Pillars
Work your way to the safe spot when you have an opening.

8th & 9th Pillars
When the 9th Pillar fires, go back to avoid being hit, then run.

Frankenstein’s Monster

An old familiar fright face, Frankenstein, has risen up once more. Frankenstein is a heavy hitter, and when he puts his feet to it, a shower of stones fall from the tower’s roof. If you stay on the right platform, you can avoid these rocks. However, if you just stand there, you’ll get hit by the rocks. Frankenstein knows, to be sure to stay on your toes. From your spot on the platform, you can hit Frankenstein with a Special Weapon, such as the Axe. Make every shot count, because you’ll have to go after Frankenstein with your whip if you’re out of Hearts.

MAP W
ROUTE-8
(BLK6-0A thru 6-0D)

From the top of the Tower of Terror stretches an evil bridge to the Castle. You must cross this span to enter Curse Castle, the haunt of evil Count Dracula. Even though you are practically at the door, you still have a long fight ahead of you!

Gremlin Gatekeepers
The leaping Gremlins are here to greet you in their fiendish fashion. Be sure to take them out quickly, before they can inflict too much damage!

Axe Knight Guard
Among Dracula's strongest guardians are the Axe Knight Guard. These animated suits of armor are capable of withstanding a lot of punishment. To defeat them, kneel in front of them and flail away with your whip. If they throw an axe high, stand and destroy it with your whip.

The River Of Death
The swift flowing current of this river is home to the fearsome Fishmen! Under the water's glassy surface, you can see their shadowy figures as they approach. Before they have a chance to stand and fire, strike with your whip. With the Ice Spell, Sypha can temporarily freeze the water and produce an interesting effect. This does little to help you get through this area.

Defend yourself if the Fishman fires

Hitting the Fishman when he's underwater is the best way to beat him

A single Pillar of Bones awaits at the end of this section.

Total Number of Small Hearts and Bonus Bags in this Route:

Lore Of The Great Vampire Hunters

TREACHEROUS FOOTHOLDS
Every Vampire Hunter knows rotting wood and crumbling blocks are unsafe to stand upon for any length of time. However, Grant can cling to the side or bottom of such material and it will not disintegrate. Although this is not especially useful in everyday Vampire Hunting, it may have some applications for the creative.
Use Grant to climb up and over this wall. It's a valuable shortcut in this tough stage!

Take It Slowly
Don't hesitate to use Special Weapons to defeat the Axe Knight Guard. If you have to use your whip, the Knight will lure you further into the area and a Gremlin will attack too!

Clean Up The Place!
The Sacred Water from earlier in the stage is the best weapon to use against the Axe Knight Guards and Pillars Of Bones. If you don't have Sacred Water, it's a little tougher to get through here, but you can do it! Grant can duck under the Axe Knight's high throws, and take shortcuts around some of them.

Bridge Of The Condemned
As you walk along this bridge, it will begin to crumble. To make matters worse, a pair of Crows are poised to knock you into the drink. Don't stop to fight the Crows, but take the hit and continue on. Use Grant if you didn't leave him behind, since he's the fastest character.

THE DRAGON DUO
The absence of enemies in this area should be a clue that you're getting close to a boss-type character. Sure enough, a pair of Water Dragons make their lair near the gates of Curse Castle! These fire-breathing serpents rise out of the water and attack in a learnable pattern. Once you've figured out where the will attack, try to get in position so you can hit them in the head from behind. When half their energy is gone, one will disappear, making your task twice as easy!
You will find these falling blocks in two locations. Be patient and you should make it through unscathed. It's safe to stand on a block that has just fallen, but not for long!

Tetris Blocks?

You will find these falling blocks in two locations. Be patient and you should make it through unscathed. It's safe to stand on a block that has just fallen, but not for long!

SKULL KNIGHT KING

Although the Skull Knight attacks like the first Skull Knight you encountered, he has an unusual defense. Whenever he's hit, a bone will fly off his skeleton, indicating who it was that hit him. These bones can be destroyed, but they fly around erratically and are difficult to hit. Thus, the Skull Knight King is only vulnerable when at least one of his bones is flying around. His defensive powers make him one of the most formidable foes in Castlevania.

Lore Of The Great Vampire Hunters

DIFFICULT ITEMS AND 1-UPS

Scattered throughout Castlevania are many candles or lanterns that are seemingly impossible to reach, and 1-Ups that defy collection. How does one get these elusive items? It's tough and some of these items can only be obtained after Dracula has been defeated and you play through the adventure again, with Grant or Alucard at your side from the beginning. If we discover other methods of collecting them, we'll reveal them in future installments of Classified Information.
If you took the lower path of fate after Route 6, you’re on the longest route to the Castle of Dracula. Not only is The Sunken Temple one of the most rambling stages in the game, it involves a chase through a rapidly flooding building after the Bone Dragon King.

Another Shortcut For Grant
If you have Grant with you, use him to go up and over this wall.

Skull Swordsmen
Wait until the Skeletons have made their third swing, and are at their greatest distance from you, before you jump down and whip.

Total Number of Small Hearts and Bonus Bags in this Route:
$$48 = 15 \text{ (3300pts)}$$

Bone Dragons
For an apprentice Vampire Hunter, the Bone Dragons can be tough. But upon defeat, they will turn into Hearts or Bonus Bags! Stand about three quarters of the way up the stairs and the first one.

Low Risk Heart Collection
Grab a bunch of Hearts in the lower passage. As long as you whip the Fishmen as soon as they leap out of the water, you should be fine.

Feed Your Boomerang To The Bone Dragon
Act swiftly here, throwing your Boomerang as soon as this Dragon slithers into view. Three or four hits will wipe it out.

The Broken Facade
Along this crumbling causeway, Fishmen and Bats will attack furiously. Answer their assault with the frenzied crack of your whip. Don’t miss the Boomerang you can get here—it’ll come in handy for the next Bone Dragon.
The Bone Dragon Trio
The easiest and fastest way to defeat the Bone Dragons is with your Whip. Stand in front of them and whip like crazy, but be ready to jump as soon as they open their mouths. If you want to defeat them with little risk, use special weapons, such as the Axe or Boomerangs.

Collect The Meat
Start three blocks away from the Meat block, jump up and towards it and whip. You should catch the Meat in mid-air.

Follow That Dragon!
Thanks to the Bone Dragon King, the entire Temple Of Sarnath is being flooded with rushing water! The inhabitants of the Temple will make every effort to make sure you don't escape. If available, use Grant's speed and swift attacking powers to make it through.

A Desperate 1-Up
If you still have Grant with you, try for this 1-Up, but only if you have lots of time—that water's rising fast!
If you still have Grant with you, you can take a time-saving shortcut by climbing to the upper platform and then heading left. Many of these blocks are breakaway, so move quickly!

PROS FIND FUN AND ADVENTURE ON THE JOB

Final Fantasy and Crystalis join SMB3 in the top 3. Both are exciting fantasy adventures that have kept the pros at Nintendo on the edges of their seats.

DEalers COME CLOSEST TO PERFECT PICKS

The Dealers did a great job picking three of the top 4 and five of the top 7. Of course, they have the advantage of seeing what everyone is taking home.
Fly up and over the wall to the left. Then turn around when you see the other side.

There's another Bowser on the other side of the wall. He's just as strong as the first one.

Normally, Bowser has a dangerous flame attack.

With this trick, Bowser's just a lot of hot air.

Let Bowser stomp you once.

You'll be invincible as long as you stay on the ground.

The Castle of Koopa in World 8 is full of dangerous traps. You’ll find it much easier to get through the Castle by using a P-Wing and floating high above the many hazards. With a P-Wing, you can also perform an odd maneuver which takes the flame from Bowser’s attack. On your way to Bowser, you’ll fly through an open room of Podoboo and Donut Lifts. In that room, far to the right, you’ll come across four possible passages. Enter the second passage from the top and follow the path until you reach Bowser’s chamber. In Bowser’s chamber, fly straight up against the wall to the left. When you fly out of the screen, continue on to the left until you can see the other side of the wall. Then turn around and return to Bowser’s chamber. When Bowser appears he'll try to spit fire but his flame will be extinguished! After Mario has been stomped by Bowser, he’ll shrink to his smallest size and the P-Wing will no longer be activated. If you keep Mario on the ground, though, he’ll be invincible from other attacks. Once the floor breaks under the pressure of Bowser’s incredible jumps, move out of the way and let Bowser fall through!

Normally, Bowser has a dangerous flame attack.

With this trick, Bowser’s just a lot of hot air.

Let Bowser stomp you once.

You’ll be invincible as long as you stay on the ground.

Two Bowsers!

While you’re flying high above Bowser’s chamber, you will be able to get to a second Bowser by flying over the wall on the left and dropping to the other side. This Bowser is identical to the original and will be no more difficult to defeat.

Musicruise Sound Tests

Three super cool sound tests have been built into this new Ninja thriller. With them, you can sample the music and sound effects of the game without actually playing. After you have reset the game, press and hold Up and Left on the Control Pad and the A, B and Select Buttons. Then press the Start Button and the Title Screen will appear. While continuing to hold the other buttons, press the Start Button again immediately. A drawing of Ryu like you've never seen him before will slide onto the screen with the message, "NINJA II MUSIC 00." Change the music number by pressing Left or Right on the Control Pad. Start the music by pressing the B Button and stop the music by pressing the A Button. That's the first sound test.

Press and hold Up, Left, A, B and Select. Then press Start once so the Title Screen will appear and press Start again for the sound test.

To access the second sound test, press and hold Up and Left on the Control Pad and the A, B and Select Buttons as before. Then press the Start Button for the Title Screen to appear. While still holding the other buttons, wait for the Title Screen to fade and press the Start Button again while the screen is temporarily blank. The Title Screen will reappear immediately, press the Start Button again and a drawing of Irene will slide onto the screen with the same sound options as before. For the third sound test, press and hold the same buttons as before after resetting the game (Up, Left, A, B and Select) and press Start to bring up the Title Screen. Wait for the Title Screen to fade and press Start again. Then wait for the Title Screen to fade a second time and press Start yet again. When the Title Screen returns, immediately press Start one more time and drawings of both Ryu and Irene will slide onto the screen with the message, MUSICRUISE. This sound test will feature the numbers and titles of the selected pieces, with both music and sound effects from the game and a meter which moves to the sounds selected.

While holding Up, Left, A, B and Select, press Start for the Title Screen to appear. Then let the Title Screen fade and press Start again. Press Start immediately for the Irene sound test to appear or let the Title fade again and press Start twice for MUSICRUISE!

Add Lives

One curious feature of the password for the second game, WARRIORS & WARRIORS II is that it saves both the position of the player and the number of players in reserve. If you don't have two players in reserve when you save your password, just change the fifth character to an "N" and you will.

Warp! Warp! Warp!

In last issue’s review of this great two-player simultaneous slitherer, we let you know about a quick and easy way to Warp to Level 3. Now we’ve discovered two more Warps. The Warp we’ve mentioned before is at the beginning of Level 1. Jump onto the first one-square island. Then jump up and down and use your forked Snake tongue. In seconds the island will open up and let you sink inside. Warp!

The second Warp is also in Level 1. It’ll send you straight to Level 8! You’ll have to demonstrate some mighty quick slithering for this one. From the beginning, get moving in a straight line to the right. Jump to avoid obstacles but don’t zig or zag. If you get to the area near the end of the level with 96 Snake Seconds, or more, remaining, you’ll see a Warp Rocket. Jump for it before it goes skyward and you may just be able to blast off to an advanced round of Snake Rattle ‘N Rollin’. Warp!

If you prefer not to skip all of the Levels, you can Warp from Level 3 to Level 5. At the beginning of Level 3, start moving to the left. Just after you slither through a narrow aisle riddled with Bladez, you’ll come to an open area with two Nibbly Pibbley Dispensers. Above the Dispensers there’s a Pibble Lid that is very difficult to reach. If you can get to it and open it up, you’ll Warp to Level 6. Open the Pibble Lid to the right and grab the Speed Up. Then jump to the platform (1) left of the leftmost Dispenser. Next leap to the right, aiming for the platform (2) just right of that Dispenser and open the Pibble Lid to cash in on a Clock. The most challenging jump comes next, onto the platform (3) which is to the right of the rightmost Dispenser. Finally, jump left up to the platform (4) to the Pibble Lid. Warp!

Trade Punches

Teamwork is key in a new street fighting strategy our Agents have developed. With this maneuver, you and a partner can fight to the very end without ever losing a character. Choose a two-player game where the fighters can cause damage to each other (2P Play B) and, while you're playing, keep an eye on your partner's Life Meter. When your partner reaches a critical level, punch his or her character until it has been defeated. This way, you will earn the life that your partner loses. When the area is clear of enemies, let your partner defeat your player and reclaim his or her life. Keep trading lives and you'll never see "Game Over" again.

Start a two-player (2P Play B) game.

When your partner is low on life, defeat him.

Clear out the enemies.

Let your partner defeat your player and reclaim the lost life.

Unlimited Wizards

In your search through Kastlerock, for the mystical staff, you'll come across many life-threatening predicaments. In some rooms of the castle, you may expend dozens of lives before you can master all of the many dangers and obstacles. For that reason, our Agents have conjured up a code that will give you an uncountable number of Wizard lives. At any point in the game, press the Select Button to go to the Subscreen and press the Start Button and B Button in the following sequence:

B, Start, Start, B, B, Start, Start, B, B, Start, Start, B, Start, Start, B, B, Start, B, Start, Start, B, Start, Start, B, B, Start, B, Start, B

As soon as the sequence is entered correctly, the screen will flash. The number of lives in reserve will not immediately appear to change but, when you press the Select Button to resume the game and press Select again to go to the Subscreen, there will be B Hats of Life on the screen which will not disappear as you lose Wizards. If, at some point, your supply of lives in reserve begins to deplete, you can easily enter the code again. This code will also fill your bottles of Potion. Use it any time to replenish your supply.

Press the Select Button to enter the Subscreen Then enter the code shown above. The screen will flash. Return to play. Then go back to the Subscreen. Lives and potions will be replenished!

Head Start

It’s not easy to fight through time and space and defeat the Evil Wizard Sabaron. To help you, our Agents have discovered a way to crack the game’s password. With this technique, you can start at the beginning of an advanced chapter, or at the beginning of the game, with extra items and experience. As your password, enter the number of the chapter in which you’d like to start followed with the letter “W”. You’ll begin at the selected Stage with a high experience level and a long list of items. Even if you select Chapter 1 (with 1W as your password) you’ll begin with Level 5 experience and several abilities which you would not normally have at the beginning.

Another way to skip to the desired chapter is to enter the letter “W” first and then the number of the chapter. The password won’t be accepted with your first attempt, though. If you enter it four times, you will begin in the selected chapter.

The image contains a page from a magazine or newsletter titled "Take Your Best Shot!!", with various sections and tables listing achievements and scores. The page includes sections titled "Rescue Rangers," "Super Soldier," "Super Mario Bros. 3," "Snake's Revenge," "Star Voyager," "Stealth ATV," "Super C," "Tecmo World Wrestling," "Tetris," "Tetris (Game Boy Version)," and "Xexyz." Each section lists names and locations, presumably cities or states, with associated achievements or scores. The page seems to be dedicated to documenting and recognizing various achievements, possibly in gaming or other competitive activities. The layout is designed to be visually engaging, with bold headings and a mix of text and numbers. The overall theme appears to be about celebrating and showcasing accomplishments, with names and locations highlighted in a structured format.
While most NES licensees are gearing up for the big holiday gift-giving season and are concentrating on finishing games that we've all known about for a while (at least if you've been reading Pak Watch), we still managed to come up with more details on a few hot new items. We suspect that some companies are keeping the lid on their projects until the Winter CES in January.

"A Nightmare Comes True," is the subtitle of Deja Vu, the new NES detective thriller from Kemco-Seika. As in Shadowgate, you play the game from the viewpoint of the main character, and the situation facing him (and you) is indeed nightmarish. The mystery begins as you regain consciousness feeling like you've really been put through the ringer. Blood stains your hands and you're in the lavatory stall of a dirty run-down bar. No sooner do you realize that you have no memory of your own identity than you stumble on a dead body in the next room, giving you two mysteries to solve (and that's just for starters).

Deja Vu's play mechanics are very similar to Shadowgate, which was a big hit with many NES players, and sure generates a lot of calls to Nintendo's Game Play Counselors! In Deja Vu, you'll have to find and use clues, weapons and other objects to not only discover your own identity, but also solve the murder. In the rough and tumble streets of Las Vegas, you won't find many friends, so look for our future review to get some clues you can use.
MEGA MAN III PAK WATCH

Mega Man is back in action in his biggest adventure yet! Just when you thought the incredible Dr. Wily had been devastated by Mega Man’s mighty mechanical power, the twisted scientist has returned with another diabolical scheme. By pretending to join up with Dr. Light, Mega Man’s brilliant but gullible creator, Dr. Wily has been able to use Mega Man’s abilities to create the ultimate robot. All the while, Dr. Light has been under the impression that he has joined forces with Dr. Wily to make a peace-keeping machine but, Wily has had other intentions.

NEW ROBOT ENEMIES! NEW ALIEN WORLDS!

While the plot is complicated, the emphasis is on the action. The game is set up like Mega Man’s first 2 adventures where you can select any of the first 8 stages from the beginning and fight to an ultimate battle with the stage leader, earning that enemy’s special weapon. There’s also a 6 Stage battle inside Dr. Wily’s new hideout and, this time, there are 4 extra stages between the first 8 and the ultimate goal. This is where Mega Man will battle the 8 foes from his last adventure, 2 per stage. Once again, the fun comes from watching the new robot creations and figuring out how to beat them.

Dr. Wily is waiting!

Dr. Wily isn’t the only one that’s been busy, Mega Man has undergone some improvements, too. He now has the ability to slide into tight areas with a quick move.

Mega Man also has a new best friend this time around. Rush the Robodog is Dr. Light’s latest invention. He helps Mega Man with three special skills. He can be used as a springboard, an underwater vehicle, and a hover-pooch for in-the-air maneuverability. Rush’s powers will come in very handy once Mega Man enters Dr. Wily’s headquarters.

Slide under tight spots

Fly the not so friendly Skies with rocket Rush

Take all the fun from Mega Man’s first two games, add new robot creations and more stages and you’ve got a great new adventure that every Mega Man fan is going to go for!
THE SIMPSONS

We recently got a chance to play an early version of Acclaim’s upcoming NES release, The Simpsons. In it, Bart Simpson must convince his family and the people of his hometown that aliens, disguised as humans, are in their midst. On his way around town, Bart will collect useful items such as spray paint, skateboards and money to help him on his way. Some of the outrageous obstacles Bart tackles include an amusement park complete with carnival-style games, and a museum full of dangerous exhibits. Programming on the game is being done by Absolute Entertainment. In the development copy we played, we especially liked the animation of Bart’s walk, and the detailed background graphics. Bart and family should be hitting your store shelves early next year, but here are a few mondo screen shots to keep you from having a cow until then.

THE SEARCH FOR DOUBLE TROUBLE BEGINS AT YOUTH EXPO ’90!

As part of the world premiere of Skate Or Die 2: The Search For Double Trouble, Electronic Arts recently sponsored the National Skateboard Association’s “Back To The City Streetstyle and Freestyle Skateboard Competition.” The competition, which was part of the September, San Francisco Youth Expo ’90, attracted some 70 professional skateboarders and thousands of Bay Area kids. In addition to promoting the game, the skaters also visited the San Francisco Children’s Hospital to sign autographs and bring the competition to those who weren’t fortunate enough to actually attend. At the hospital, the pros demonstrated their skills playing Skate Or Die 2 on systems and games donated to the hospital by Electronic Arts and Toys ‘R Us. Both Electronic Arts and the National Skateboard Association hope that gestures like this will help dispel the widespread perception of skaters as free-wheeling troublemakers.

If you’re into cold weather shredding action, Ski Or Die from Ultra, due out this winter, may be just the ticket to lift your spirits. Hit the slopes with your skis or inner tube. Look out for moguls, ravines and other natural objects while avoiding more active threats like Punk Penguins and Beaudacious Polar Bears. It’s a great mixture of skiing action and humor.
NINTENDO HAS FUN IN 1991

Nintendo has some interesting games slated for release next year. Although all are set in the present day, each has a unique plot and play mode. Barring any last minute changes of plans, here's what to look for:

EARTH BOUND

Due out in the Fall of 1991 is Earth Bound, an epic adventure with game play like Final Fantasy, but set in the modern world. Baseball bats and psychic (PSI) powers take the place of swords and sorcery. The main character, a kid with latent PSI talents, searches for the truth behind the legend about a mysterious ancestor. Many things will hinder the lad's quest, including poltergeists, giant rats and crazy hippies. Earth Bound (which was released as "Mother" in Japan) features a giant world to explore and tons of puzzles to solve, all with a touch of humor.

SIMCITY

Another of the games we hinted at last issue is the NES version of the home computer mega-hit SimCity, scheduled for Spring release. This city-building simulator is an engrossing strategy game that requires planning and brain power rather than quick reflexes to win. As the mayor of a growing city, you'll try to keep your citizens happy by zoning your city in a productive fashion. You also might find yourself rebuilding after a city-crunching disaster such as a giant monster attack, tornado or earthquake. The early NES version we saw played a little different than the PC version, but it had all the same options. This is definitely one to check out, especially if you don't have the computer version. Although SimCity is completely different from games like Tetris and Dr. Mario, it has the same qualities that make people play it obsessively, and appeals even to those who don't usually enjoy video games.

STARTROPICS

We jumped the gun just a little previewing StarTropics in our May/June issue (see that issue for details). However, it looks like this super island-hopping adventure will be kicking off the Nintendo line-up in early 1991. Join Mike as he searches for his missing uncle, Dr. Jones, with his Island Yo-yo and mini-sub, Sub-C. StarTropics is full of surprises, action and mysteries to solve.

PAK WATCH

SUPER FAMICON

Last August at the Shoshinkai licensee show in Tokyo, this Pak Watcher got his first peek at the Super Famicom and the awesome new Super Mario World from Nintendo. Both the game and the 16 bit system were all you'd expect, and a lot more! In the shots below you can see the great colors and detail, but you can't see the scrolling background screens that give the game a real feeling of depth and motion. Sound great? Yaah, it does that, too. The digital stereo effects and music added a whole new dimension to stomping Koopas. We'll give you more juicy details on Japan's new generation of games real soon.
WEIRD HEROES

Everybody knows the big league characters of NES gaming: Mario, Link, Mega Man, Simon Belmont, etc. While these guys bask in the glory, the minor league stars continue to toil along, hoping to one day make it big. Here are four up and coming characters who might have a chance to break into “the show.”

SHADOW OF THE NINJA

Shadow Of The Ninja, the first offering from new NES licensee Natsume, looks promising. In Shadow Of The Ninja, you and a friend each control two new Ninja warriors (with two-player simultaneous play) and battle your way through a high-tech fortress full of martial arts foesmen. With great graphics reminiscent of Sunsoft’s Batman, and fairly challenging gameplay, Shadow is a bright spot on the NES horizon. Natsume’s next game should be a science fiction battle game titled S.C.A.T., which focuses on the action as two space marines blast their way through enemy forces. It too features two-player simultaneous action, and the Natsume trademark—the two space marines, like the Ninjas in Shadow, are a male and female team (a first in video games!).

WEREWOLF

Data East plans to package a full color, 20-page comic book with its new action game, Werewolf. This mini-comic tells the story of the Werewolf warrior hero who is the lone survivor of a world devastated by a mad scientist’s mutation chemical. The game follows his fight as he attempts to restore the world to normal and defeat the evil forces of the scientist. The Werewolf hero has three levels of power: Human, Werewolf and Super Wolf. Higher power levels give him better attack force and the ability to scale sheer surfaces.

CONQUEST OF THE CRYSTAL PALACE

Asmik put their sci-fi thriller Wurm on the back burner in favor of this “side-scrolling” fantasy action game. Highlights include a boy hero, Farron, who can customize his powers and summon his dog, Zap, to help him with the battle. Conquest Of The Crystal Palace has a distinctive Japanese feel to it with dramatic pagoda backgrounds and mythical creatures to overcome. Some of the boss characters are pretty large and are well animated. Wurm, an adventure game that we thought already looked good, is going to be even better once Asmik’s developers make some programming adjustments.
SPORTS GAME ROUND-UP

Attention sports fans! A great selection of sports games are coming soon for the NES. Whether you’re a player or just an enthusiastic fan, you’ll find a lot to cheer about. Here’s a look at what you can expect in the near future from video stadiums and arenas.

EURO CUP SOCCER, WORLD TROPHY SOCCER AND NINTENDO WORLD CUP

What’s a soccer fan to do in the four year lapse between World Cups? Play the world’s most popular sport on the NES, with one of this trio of new soccer games. Euro Cup Soccer from Matchbox features a rapid screen scroll and attention to real soccer detail that should appeal to hardcore fans. World Trophy Soccer is a translation of the popular arcade game and is being produced by INTV. Both of these should be out early next year.

Nintendo World Cup, which should be winging its way to stores near you as you read this, is Nintendo’s own addition to the soccer craze. It’s a humorous and fun-to-play version of the game with characters that look like they stepped out of River City Ransom. Both Euro Cup Soccer and Nintendo World Cup can be played by four players using the Satellite or Four Score! (Look for more on Nintendo World Cup and other four-player games in a special edition Strategy Guide.) Perhaps these games will help prepare the American public for soccer mania when we host the World Cup in 1994.

WWF WRESTLEMANIA CHALLENGE

Acclaim/LJN announced WWF Wrestlemania Challenge (sequel to Wrestlemania) at the Summer CES, but we recently got some more information on it. WWF Wrestlemania Challenge features a different vantage point on the ring along with a roster of eight wrestlers, including: the Ultimate Warrior, Brutus “The Barber” Beefcake, Ravishing Rick Rude, Big Boss Man, Hacksaw Jim Duggan, Andre The Giant, Randy Savage and Hulk Hogan. You can go at it in or out of the ring. Create tag teams of two men or play a “survivor series” with a three-man team.

Two players can also beat up on a two-wrestler computer tag team.

WAYNE GRETZKY’S HOCKEY

If you’re a fan of strategy oriented hockey (believe it or not, hockey is more than just “every man for himself” on ice) you might want to check out Wayne Gretzky’s Hockey from THQ. Although the men are a little smaller than in Blades Of Steel, more of the ice is shown, giving you a big picture perspective.

MIKE DITKA’S BIG PLAY FOOTBALL

Chicago Bear’s Head Coach Mike Ditka endorses Accolade’s new football NES game. Titled Mike Ditka’s Big Play Football, the game makes it simple to throw a pass by freezing the action when you’re ready to cut loose. With the inexorable pass rush halted, you can then scan your receivers and select the open man to throw to.

Big Play Football lets you play against the computer, against a friend, or with a friend against the computer.
GOSSIP GALORE

With our new Now Playing section covering all the most recent releases for the NES, we’re free to cover the best of what’s a little ways off. Our Pak Watch Planner will cover the best of what’s in the “Crystal Ball.” As you can see, that’s quite a few titles!!

DOUBLE DRAGON III

The most popular video martial arts legend ever, Double Dragon, will soon get a third installment in an episode entitled The Rosetta Stone. In this world-spanning adventure, tons of martial arts mayhem await the brothers Lee as they search for the three Rosetta Stones and the world’s toughest enemy. Double Dragon III is still under development and probably won’t be out until next fall.

THE FLINTSTONES AND THE JETSONS

Hanna-Barbera’s famous cartoon families, The Flintstones and The Jetsons, will soon become NES stars in a pair of Game Paks being developed by Taito. The games, which may be the start of a series of titles starring these popular characters, will be tied together by one story line. Although you don’t have to have both Game Paks to play, you may find clues for one game in the other. Plus if you play your cards right, you can even make Fred Flintstone meet George Jetson (through a time warp)!! Taito is also working on an ice hockey title with smooth animation and an unique interactive coach feature, as well as a NES version of the arcade/Game Boy hit, Qix.

MECH WARRIORS AND ULTIMATE AIR COMBAT

Activision has some hot projects under development. In addition to the Aliens Vs. Predator game we told you about last issue, they are also developing a Mech Warriors game set in FASA’s Battletech universe, and an Ultimate Air Combat game flight simulator with advanced features. By the way, Activision is the first American developer of games for the Japanese Super Famicom! It’s good to know that they haven’t stopped working on great titles for the American NES.

ROBOCOP 2

RoboCop 2 is under development for the NES by Data East. Although we haven’t seen much of it yet, the game’s plot will follow the movie closely.

MAGIC OF SCHEHERAZADE 2

Word is that along with its many kung fu oriented titles, Culture Brein is working on a sequel to the fantasy adventure game The Magic Of Scheherazade. We’ll keep you posted.

Many a “Starsky And Hutch” fan in the 1970’s wanted to be just like the cool crime-fighting duo. So did Kadeem Hardison, better known as the sunglasses-flipping Dwayne Wayne on the popular NBC comedy “A Different World.” “'Starsky And Hutch' was a trip, man,” Kadeem said. “They should make a Nintendo game out of that show. It was great!” As it turns out, however, it was Kadeem’s mother who had more influence on his decision to pursue acting than did “Starsky And Hutch.”

“When I was little, my mom recognized that I had a natural acting talent and did all she could to encourage me to become an actor,” recalled Kadeem. “The first jobs I got were mostly commercials, but it didn’t take me long to land a role in an afterschool TV special called The Color Of Friendship. That’s when I knew what I wanted to do for the rest of my life.”

It was through acting that Kadeem was introduced to Nintendo. During the filming of Spike Lee’s “School Daze,” Kadeem and his fellow actors played many an inning of Nintendo Baseball while waiting on the set.

A huge fan of Nintendo sports games such as Racket Attack and Tecmo Bowl, Kadeem can’t seem to get enough of Super Spike V’Ball. “I was recently a guest on the talk show ’Live With Regis And Kathie Lee,” recalled Kadeem. “They surprised me by bringing out an NES and a Super Spike V’Ball game. Then they pulled this guy out of the audience who just happened to be a Nintendo PowerFest finalist. Man, that guy was good!”

He beat me cold.” When it comes to “A Different World,” Kadeem is in control the whole way. Now entering its fourth year, the show focuses on the lives of a group of students at Hillman College. Kadeem sees certain similarities between his character on the show and the person he is in real life. “First of all,” said Kadeem, “we’re both nice guys and we like to have fun. But the biggest difference is that Dwayne doesn’t have time to play Nintendo. He’s always too busy talking to girls!”

On the set of “A Different World,” the fun often starts before the cameras even begin rolling. “When you have a guy like Sinbad on the set, it can get pretty crazy,” Kadeem said. “All it takes is one person to encourage him and you get a 45 minute stand-up comedy routine.”

Away from the hectic pace of “A Different World,” Kadeem likes to play basketball and listen to music. His favorite musicians range from Bruce Springsteen to Run DMC to Thelonious Monk. In fact, at one time, Kadeem wanted to be a drummer but couldn’t find enough time to practice.

Eventually, Kadeem would like to write short stories for children as well as write and direct screenplays. But in the meantime, he’s not quite ready to give up acting or playing Nintendo.

“I’ll guarantee you one thing,” Kadeem said. “If I ever see the PowerFest champ who beat me, he’d better watch out. I just cleaned up on Super Spike V’Ball’s American Circuit, and I’m ready to take him on... anytime, anyplace!”

Celebrity Game Review- NES Play Action Football

“This is the best game Nintendo has ever made!” said Kadeem when asked for his thoughts on NES Play Action Football. “I haven’t gotten to the Power Bowl yet, but I think I’ve got a good chance with the San Francisco team,” he added. On his personal player meter rating based on a scale of 1 to 5, Kadeem gave the game a 4, saying, “I would have probably given it a 5, but I had a hard time trying to pass the ball.” On both Challenge and Theme and Fun, Kadeem awarded the game a resounding 5 on each.

Kadeem had these tips for aspiring coaches. “Call a pass defense as much as possible and defend against the run with your player if you need to. Also, on running plays, sweep to the wide side of the field—your'll get more yardage that way. It’s also a good idea to substitute players once their energy level meter begins to flash.”

VOLUME 18 93
Who are the best players in the country? That's a question the Nintendo PowerFest set out to answer as it toured 30 major U.S. cities this year. Of the estimated one million players who attended, only 90 will qualify for an all-expenses paid trip to Orlando, Florida, December 7-9 for the national finals. Head-to-head competition will determine the nation's top three video wizards. Who are these elite players? What makes them so great? How did they handle the pressure of the competition? We caught up with some of these video game wizards to find out.

High Score!

Thor Aackerlund
Houston Finalist
Winning score: 1,496,000
Age: 13 1/2
Thor might thudbar at the NWC finals. Not content with conquering 112 games and blasting through the semi-final competition in Houston, he's practicing intensely for Orlando, scoring over 1,900,000 points 11 times! As we go to press, his practice score of 2,296,000 is tops in the nation. Although he rarely scores under 1,700,000, he admits that anything can happen. Like other finalists, he lists nervousness as his greatest obstacle. Competing before a huge audience will only intensify the pressure.

Who's the Master?

Like Father, Like Son

Bruce and Mike Trogdon
Pittsburgh, PA, finalists
Winning scores: Bruce 659,000, Mike 990,000
Ages: Bruce 34, Mike 10
Bruce and Mike are currently the only father-son finalists. Bruce didn't think he had much of a chance to win against the younger competitors in his over-1B age group, but his experience with arcade classics in years past certainly paid off. His high score for his favorite game, Tetris, is over 450,000. Both Trogdons say that competing first at Cleveland helped them win their finalist spots at Pittsburgh, but Bruce claims that he drew on his own driving experience to cruise through Rad Racer. Let's hope that he doesn't go 255 kph all the time!

Practice Pays

Jacob Winch
Chicago finalist
Winning score: 1,050,300
Age: 10
Once Jacob decided to enter the NWC, he got serious about practicing. He set up three televisions, each connected to an NES, to simulate the triple Game Pak. When he was certain that he had the right stuff, he entered the Chicago NWC and sure enough, made the finals on his first try! And Jacob isn't the only talented player in the house—his father reached the final seven in the over-1B age group in Chicago. Jacob's father also appeared on the Oprah Winfrey Show to talk about the Nintendo competition's ability to boost self-esteem and bridge the generation gap.

Jason Orlando
Boston Finalist
Winning score: 1,200,000
Age: 15
Is Jason destined for greatness in the city that shares his name? Only the final competition will tell, but judging from his performance so far, he'll be tough to beat. With 1,949,225 points, he held the NWC record for a time, and he even challenged Game Master Howard Phillips...and beat him three times! He's played ever since the NES was first released. For him, becoming a finalist was "a dream come true."
At press time, Heather was the only female finalist. After being beaten in the semi-finals at Dallas, she analyzed her game play, made some improvements, and headed for Oklahoma City. This time, Heather made the finals! She says that it felt "awesome" to beat the boys who didn't think she had a chance. She's honing her game play and looking forward to her first plane trip to Orlando. She's confident that she can win but hopes that the other finalists continue to underestimate her ability. Watch out guys!

YOUNGEST GUN

Nicholas Membrez-Weller
Seattle Finalist
Winning Score: 700,000
Age: 7 1/2

At only 7 1/2 years old, Nicholas is the youngest finalist so far. Not discouraged by reaching only the semi-finals in St. Paul, Nicholas attended the Seattle PowerFest and won the championship for his age group. He feels good about being the youngest finalist, though playing against older players makes him a bit nervous. When he's not playing NES games, he plays tee-ball and studies math.

CELEB GUEST

Rob Bleaco
New York City Finalist
Winning score: 969,000
Age: 16

Rob had never played Rad Racer before competing in the NWC, but that didn't stop him from driving away with a finalist's spot. Having his family there helped him relax, and he kept the pressure off in the final rounds by imagining himself in his own living room. In preparation for the finals, he's concentrating on Tetris and has racked up a score of 532,255, easily one of the best Tetris scores we've seen! After winning in NYC, he was asked to appear on the television talk show, "Live With Regis And Kathie Lee," where he tested his expert game play skills with Kedem Herdison, of "A Different World." (See this issue's Celebrity Profile.)

HOT CONTENDER

Patrick Keasicki
St. Paul Finalist
Winning Score: 454,000
Age: 29

Patrick, a professional fire fighter from Warren, Michigan, attributes his NWC success to consistency. After being first runner-up in Chicago, he decided to try again at the St. Paul stop. His highest competition score was over 800,000, but he usually scores between 400,000 and 650,000. He's looking forward to the championship challenge and plans to take his wife, Sheri, and daughter, Andrea, to Orlando to share the excitement...and get tan!

JUST FOOLIN' AROUND

Richard Watson
Phoenix Finalist
Winning score: 969,000
Age: 22

Having not played a Nintendo game for more than two months, Richard went to the PowerFest just for fun. Now, after reaching the finals, he knows that he has as good a chance as any other finalist to win the championship. Richard suffers from Lupus disease, but hasn't let it slow him down, and his whole family is looking forward to the NWC finals. The only thought he'll have while playing, he says, is "Don't Choke!"

LOOK OUT, ORLANDO!

You'll see these and many other great players in the final NWC competition to be held in Orlando, Florida. Who will be the first Nintendo World Champion? Why not come down to Florida and see for yourself. Join in the fun!

The reissued version still has 13 rounds in minor, major and world circuits, and it features International boxers such as Mike Tyson, Glass Joe and Super Macho Man. But this time, all fights lead to a championship bout with the legendary Mr. Dream. Look for Punch-Out! at a World of Nintendo location near you.
